Council Supports Dam In Quick Summer Meet

The United States Senate was asked to keep the already appropriated Kinzua dam funds intact by the Warren borough council Monday evening when it passed a resolution requesting such a policy. The resolution followed a meeting of flood committee members earlier in the day.

Council approved $838.50 worth of assessments for 400 feet of Hill st, sanitary sewer, and learned that action on the Glade Run project has reached the easement stage. As soon as property owners have approved the channel effects, council will be presented with a definite plan and it is possible that action will be seen this summer.

Council amended the parking ordinance to prohibit parking on all bridges in the borough and on the approaches to the Hickory st. bridge.

Engineer DeBell thanked all who attended the official open house for the new sewage plant last week end and expressed his pleasure with the interest shown.

Council voted to advertise for blacktop bids. The FJ-1 will be used on borough streets this summer.

Memorial field was leased to the American Legion for a standstill drum corps competition on July 4, . and the Beaty tennis courts were leased to the Jaycees for a firemen's water battle the evening of the Fourth, from 6 to 9 p. m.

A resolution was passed approving flood repair work with government funds and using Warren employes and equipment where possible, and private help where needed. Daniel Doherty was named auditor to replace John J. Smith whose resignation was accepted. R. J. Reed's resignation from the planning commission was accepted and R. W. Steber's reappointment to the parking authority was approved.

No action was taken on fluoridation.

Kinzua Dam Involves Unseen Influences

(Bob Walsh)

WARREN, PA.

Engineers who have been involved in the construction of dams as a part of our national conservation plan will tell you that every project of this nature is opposed by various interests, many times very powerful ones. The opposition which has plagued the Kinzua dam since it was written onto the books as a law has been typical of many preceding it.

We now find a strong bid being made to divert the water through New York state. We believe this approach represents at least two interests.

There will be those, even as in the case of river transportation, who honestly believe it is a good idea and York state to the lake. perhaps for selfish reasons would

There is no sound argument for delay. We have passed the moment of conviction. The people up and down the river have been convinced that they want the protection offered by the Kinzua dam and they want it as soon as possible.

The action now centers in Washington, and the more influence we can get on our side in the cloak rooms, hallways, and sanctums of that city, the sooner will the job be done. This means we need friends, and those can be found along the river where the water is vital to

These are the worst among us, and in the order named. None has a record better than 17 per cent illiteracy. Louisiana runs as high as 28-1/2 per cent. That means over a fourth of the state cannot read or write, and this percentage applies to Georgia, Mississippi, and South Carolina.

This does not suggest that we in the North have much in the area of social relations of which we can be proud. We, too, have more illiterates than are justified, and in our freedom of education which opens our doors to all races we do not practice the social freedom which the open doors represent.

These funds have been paid for a loss in the post office. They have helped finance our commercial airlines. We have built boats for our shipping industry and have provided water transportation on rivers and canals. All these in competition with other forms of transportation.

But those other forms also have had their millions. The trucks have not paid the cost of the highways they use, despite taxes on gasoline and registration plates.

And the railroads have had their hand in the Washington till quite regularly, and like their competitors received a major boost from the government when they were opening their lines. And to the Washington help you can add state and local boosts given in many ways, such as tax exempt right-of-ways and other Business reconversion payments have totaled over $43 billion! Tax exemptions have been so large that a flat income tax with no exemptions would actually reduce taxes for the average wage-earner.

And we in the press have had our benefits. We pay a very smallmailing bill for papers and magazines, and a major portion of papers within the counties where they are printed are distributed to post office boxes free of charge.

All of these aids pay off to you somewhere, such as in a lower price for your paper. But you also pay the cost at some other point where it does not show, such as the unfair percentage of the tax dollar which you provide, and by you we mean the average worker whoearns between $3,000 and $7,000 a year.

All of this needs to be done, but we seem to have developed a hodgepodge of supports and exceptions which long ago has caused us to lose track of where free enterprise begins and government assistance ends, or in reverse.

VISIT THE FAMOUS "Kinzua Viaduct'' via an old time Erie Railroad excursion on Sunday, June 21. The train leaves Jamestown, N.Y., at 11:50 a.m. and returns at 6:20 p.m. at a cost of $4 for adults and $2 for children. The tickets are available at the B. & B. Smoke Shop in Warren.

The Erie RR is known for its many viaducts, but the Kinzua at one time time was billed as "The Eighth Wonder of the World" and the site of many an excursion train of days long gone. The Viaduct, 4.9 miles north of Mt. Jewett, was first built in 1882. Completed in just 94 working days, it was the highest railroad viaduct in the world at that time, and today is only exceeded by three others.

The present Kinzua Viaduct was increased in weight in the year 1900 (rebuilt) to handle heavier motive power and rolling stock, and is in excellent condition today. There are sturdy walks on either side of the tracks for people to alight for a better view of the structure and surrounding scenery. The structure is 301 feet high and 2053 feet long.

Those planning to take the tripare reminded that food will be available on the train, or they can bring their own basket lunch. No meal stops will be made on the trip.

Warren recently adopted a fire prevention code which is well armed with teeth. It is the adoption of a code used in many cities and approved by underwriters. The adoption of the code gives us a better rating in the insurance books.

In fairness to all we believe some of the code which applies to most of us should be publicized so that you will not unknowingly violate the law. Here is such a portion of the code:

AFTERNOON WITH THE BULLS

ARANJUEZ, Spain The first of Antonio Ordonez's bulls was small and light and he was not a very good bull. Antonio did what he could with him but it was not much and I don't remember the fight at all. The second fighter was Manuel Chicuelo 2d, bearer of a distinguished name in bull fighting, veteran of many fights in the villages.

He's a very litle man, for a matador anyhow, very crafty, very flashy, and enormously popular with the crowd. Chicuelo is the Jackie Gleason of the bull ring, the man with the common touch--very brave, very good, and very vulgar. The fight was all fireworks, what Bill Davis calls a high-wire act. The little man strutted and pulled his bull into tight turns, much too tight. He turned his back on the bull and strutted some more.

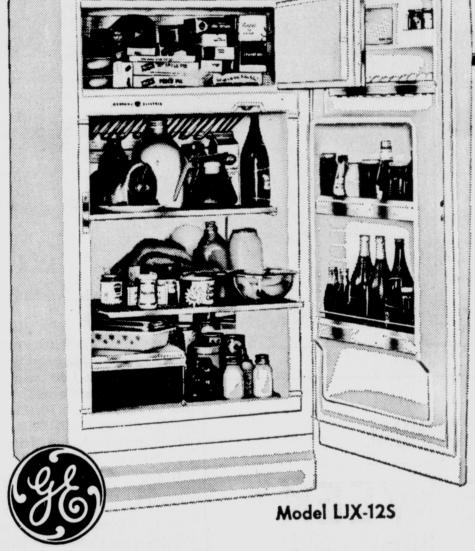

In a fight like this, the bull acquires some of the vulgarity of the man, the character of the charges almost exactly matching the temperament of the man. Similarly, a noble bullfighter, I think (and many would violently disagree here), endows his bull with some of his own grandeur of soul. But it was a spectacular fight and the crowd repeatedly bellowed.

Then came Jaime Ostos, the baby of the three matadors. He's very handsome and very young. He is also a brave bullfighter, a good bullfighter, and a very foolish one. "He fights with his obscenity, not with his head," says Hemingway. Ostos takes risks he is too young and inexperienced to carry off with impunity. I saw him fight three times -- in Toledo, in Granada, and in Aranjuez -- and he was mauled by the bull every time but not seriously hurt. This luck will not hold forever. It is a race now between experience, common sense, or death. One of them will overtake Ostos one of these days and no one knows Again Ordonez -- his second bull, the crowd's fourth bull. It was a superb animal, best of the afternoon (best of many afternoons, said Bill Davis), charging straight and fast and without warning. "A good bullfighter prepares his bull for death lance.

TWO-WAY SOFTBALL TIE

The Warren Elks needed an extra inning Tuesday night to register a 15-12 victory over the "400" but it only ended up with the winners in a tie for first place in the City Softball loop with Betts Machine. Both have 3-1 records to date.

Soda Mineral is next in the standings with 2-1, Solar is 1-2, while the "400" Block and Jones are holed in the cellar with 0-2.

Dick Smith was credited with the win Tuesday after relieving in the seventh. Phil Stewart clubbed a home run for the winners and Ray Kane did the same for the losers.

A pair of games were staged Monday evening with the Elks taking Jones 12-7 and Betts scoring over Solar 6-1. In the former contest Smith allowed only six safeties in a six-inning relief role and Stewart batted three for four. Ken Sorenson was the hurler for Betts, giving up only two hits and J. Berdine shined at the plate with three hits in four trips.

Last Thursday John Berdine pitched the Betts combination to a 6-3 victory over the Elks. Wednesday it was Soda Mineral over Solar 3-2.

LOSE TWO AT OLEAN

Bamby's of Olean were host to Betts Machine softballers for a pair of games Sunday, but still battled to 2-1 and 4-2 wins. Local highlight was S. Cummings' plate performance in the night cap. He hit safely three times in as many trips and included a couple homers while doing so.

COUNTY TEAM IN TIE

Kinzua boosted its record to 4-1 Sunday but remained in a three-way tie for top spot in the Chautauqua County Baseball Association standings. With the Kinzua lads are Busti and Onoville.

Kinzua blanked Kennedy 8-0 on Ed Rickerson's two-hitter. The Warren boy also batted a perfect our for four at the plate with a
